DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 3-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Donaghy et al.

The disclosure of Donaghy et al. teaches the invention as claimed including a Raschel warp knit fabric in which loops of tuck warp (bar III) are engaged with loops of a ground structure (bar II) with an elongation of at least 20% in the warp direction. The method of making recitation “formed by a fall plate”, as set forth initially in claim 3, is not germane to patentability of the product itself and therefor is considered non-controlling as to the metes and bounds of the claim. Note that the size of the yarn is at least 16.0 dtex.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

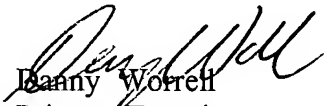

2. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Donaghy et al.

The disclosure of Donaghy et al. teaches the invention substantially as claimed as indicated above in the rejection to claim 1. The disclosure of Donaghy et al does not set forth the specific ground fabric stitch as set forth in claim 2. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to choose from a number of different ground stitches including those as set forth in claim 2 in order to optimize the specific characteristics of the fabric such as strength and flexibility.
